Re: Youth Theatre Charity – Request for Silent Auction Donation 2017

Hello, we are Awkward Stage Productions, a not-for-profit theatre company and registered charity. We help young and emerging artists transition from training and amateur performance to professional opportunities in the Vancouver theatre community. We provide actors, musicians, technical crew, stage crew, writers, directors and production crew with professionally guided theatre experience through the staging of productions for the entertainment or our community.

Our recent production of “Cry Baby: The Musical” at the 2017 Vancouver International Fringe Festival played to full houses and was selected Pick of the Fringe. We are currently planning our 2018 season, including SMACKDOWN! The 24-Hour Musical Contest for March 2018. We have produced 15 shows in the past 8 years, earned rave reviews and awards, and over 800 young and emerging artists have benefited.

We rely on ticket revenue, donations, sponsorships and our annual fundraiser to provide these incredible theatre opportunities, which includes paying our young artists for their time and talent. We are a registered Canadian Charity: 800906455RR0001

This December 7 we are staging our annual fundraiser cabaret titled, “An Awkward Family Holiday” at the CBC Studio 700. We will be providing stellar entertainment by young musicians and vocalists, as well as a silent auction, light appetizers and a cash bar. We expect between 120 and 150 attendees.

May we please have your support in the form of a donated item for our silent auction?

All donors will be acknowledged profusely in the program, our website, Facebook, Twitter and at the event.

Please contact me directly if you have questions or would like more information. Thank you in advance for your support of Vancouver’s next generation of theatre professionals.
